To Madame Giulie Grisi

LOVE

ILLUMES THE DARKEST NIGHT

WORDS BY

JAMES SIMMONDS.

MUSIC BY

THOMAS BAKER

C. Bunbar N.Y. 25 Nett

New York

Published by COOK & BROTHER, 343 Broadway

St. Louis FRITZ & DERLETH.

Louisville FAULDS, STONE & MORSE.

Nashville JAMES DIGGONS

Entered according to Act of Congress, A.D. 1854, by Cook & Brother, in the Clerk's office of the District Ct. of the Southern Dist. of New York.

LOVE ILLUMES THE DARKEST NIGHT

Poetry by J.Simmonds. Music by Thomas Baker.

strange may be the numbers, 'Tis truth that's break_ing from love's chains, I have not words to speak the feel_ing, Of this fond heart that beats for thee, But hear in p sim_ _ _ple tones re_veal_ing, How you are all this world to me, to me, to me, How you are all this world to me.
rall

rallent - - - - tan - - - - - - - - do all this world to me, all this world to me.
p pp mf
Wake, lovely
p mai - - - den from your dreaming, Give one short hour to my poor lay, And that sweet joy will be re - deem - - ing, Ev'ry grief I've known this day, Tho' all a - round be darkest sorrow, All's for got when thou art by, Dreams of hope from thee I borrow, Love il lumes life's darkest sky, Dreams of hope, dreams of hope of hope il lumes life's darkest sky, You are all this world to me

p rallent
all this world to me.
pp
mf

T. Birch & Son
294 Bowery.